Pennock Health Services shines with new kitchen equipment

When Pennock Health Services of Hastings, Michigan, resolved to transition to a room service platform, Mary Ann Maier, director of material management and member of the HPS Technical Advisory Committee (TAC), contacted HPS for help and advice.

After reviewing the new floor plans, previously commissioned by Pennock, Tammy Wilcox, HPS customer service representative, and Brad Heuton, great lakes food service equipment specialist, discussed the project with Sandy Bowen, director of dietary services and member of HPS Food Service Administrators Advisory Committee (FSAAC).

Based on her previous experiences working with Wilcox through the HPS Furniture, Finishes & Equipment program, Bowen was excited to learn how Heuton and Wilcox could assist the hospital.

Throughout the process, Heuton evaluated the changing needs of the kitchen staff. Focusing on space utilization and efficiency, he worked with Bowen to select equipment that would support Pennock's new program. Bowen appreciated Heuton and Wilcox's collaborative approach. "They asked for my opinion on everything we did and would allow me to go back to my staff to get all their opinions as well. They really let us make the decisions," she commented.

Once the layout and equipment selections were finalized, Wilcox coordinated delivery dates with the manufacturers and the install team based on Pennock's schedule.

"Everything ran so smoothly from start to finish. It was just a breeze. Even after the project was finished, Tammy checked back in to make sure everything was okay. She took good care of us," Bowen added.

The staff and hospital guests at Pennock couldn't be happier with the new kitchen and the room service program. According to Bowen, the patients and guests of the hospital compliment the food frequently. Even the health department is pleased with the improvements!

Pennock Health Services' patient satisfaction is up, food waste is down, and Bowen and Maier are proud to offer patients freshly prepared, nutritious meal choices that support healing and recovery.
